one of the harder games I've played but very fun and rewarding! if you like sneaking and WWII games you should definitely give this one a try.. The game creates an interesting atmosphere. A very similar style of story I've seen in the great Max Payne. I think the game is to get you to spend a lot of time in it!. I refunded it for some dumbass reason and I regret it a really great game with a really great concept!. piece of crap, didn't even let me start the game up.. Simply one of my favorite VR experience and probably one of the best Vr magic casting game on steam!. Just like in the past, Cricket Captain continues to be the best Cricket Simulation game available. Along with adding playable test nations Ireland and Afghanistan, there has also been a massive statistical update (adding everybody who has ever played a test into the database) and a much better match engine in the limited over formats. Once again it seems I will get well over a hundred hours out of this game. A must buy for Cricket tragics like myself. I loved the music and visuals, didn't understand the story at all. There should be a third option besides "yes" and "no", something like "errr...dunno".

looked at the reviews. At a time I checked the reviews, the most were the negative ones, and currently they still are. The most of the reviews say that nothing is changed in the game. Also those "0.1 hours" reviews seem like, oh let's just review the game, so those idiot developers could get as much as negative reviews because I hate them.

I played around 8 hours in the game, and here are my impressions.

First, let's start with the NEGATIVE ones:

- the visuals are the same
- the combat is still rather clunky and there is a lot of "misses", which is pretty tiresome
- some locations in the game look beautiful, but others look... not so much
- if you don't have the patience, you will have difficult time with some quests because there is no tutorial to explain how some things work in the game
- bugs

Now, let's shift to the POSITIVE aspects of the game:

- the story is pretty good, and for some strange reason, it grows on you. I want to do more and explore more
- much better map
- the world is HUGE, and there is a lot to see and to find
- crapload of loot
- much better inventory system to manage that loot
- "crafting" spells can be fun
- there is a certain charm in the stuff that is not explained, because you have to figure them out by yourself. If you have the patience, the whole experience can be pretty rewarding
- the developer still updates the game, which is a good sign
- you get the game for free if you already have the original

Finally, to say that the game is "crap" is just pure bashing. The game isn't all that great, but it isn't that bad either like others want to assure potential buyers. It sits somewhere in the middle, between "I like it" or "I hate it".

I for one like it, and I would recommend it. If you have the patience.. This game is very fun.. It's fun to play on the Bass. Don't know about guitar.. Good game. Nice platformer V puzzle game. This's a very hard game but "Hard game is for intelligent people"
Mong studio sẽ cho ra nhiều sản phẩm mới nữa!. There's Pros and cons on this game.

Pros:

1. If you love Walking dead series and play as one of the characters, you'll love it.
2. If you loved the escapist game and would like to have zombie apocalypse on it, you'll love this game.
3. controls are not bad with very simple game play
4. If you love zombie defence games where you need to hold your base and build barricades and kill zombies, you'll love this game.
5. Simple mechanics: You gather some components and craft weapons or tools with it. Not really hard for anybody to play this.

Cons:

1. If you're looking for survival game, I don't recommend you to play this. (no hunger, no base building etc)
2. There's no stacking up. You play each story and start with nothing to story based items. You finish the game, and that's it for that game.
3. It's always based on the story so no extra things you can do except collecting items for achievements.
4. The inventory is very limited. you can only hold 6 items and have one storage space which is your desk.
5. There's no new things on the story. It's exactly the TWD you know. However, it skips many parts. It has a hospital story as tutorial and jumps right to the barn.

6. Survival is very limited with Zombie defence, and you can't play it unless you have most of the crafting recipes from the story play. So you can't jump right into the survival game.
 7. You can't save during the game. You lose someone, you start the new game.

For me, story based games where I have limited freedom is not kind of game for me so I'm going to give the thumbs down. However, for both Escapists and TWD fans, it is another story. It has few bugs where when you start the second story, none of the survivors will gather up or work but stay in their bed, and few minor bugs.. Dynamite Jack is a short (28 levels), strategic, stealthy action game. The gameplay is exciting, tense and escalates as you go through more levels. You have the option to achieve achievements for each level making some levels more challenging. After completing the game and you still haven't had enough. You can create your own levels in the level editor and try out the communities levels online.. its cute... im sure you can find better things to play online (especially since its flash based), not worth the 1$, but i got it in a 43 games for 1$ bundle... and got cards from it... so its fine...i guess, one of the better games on that bundle, shame its unstable and only has 3 levels, i enjoyed them.. Do you remember Carmageddon?

- Did you like Carmageddon?

- Did had really enjoy playing Carmageddon?

In that case, search no more, the new and improved Carmageddon is here! It doesn't have the same name, but i really, really recommend this to you if you want to Squash some zombies and destroy some cars!

Market Tycoon V. 1.1.0 (NEW AI System):

Thanks to everyone who submitted a bug report.

This is the most important update yet. In this update, we have completely changed the AI system, the characters getting stuck should be fixed, as well as some other small bug fixes.

this update includes but to limited to:

- New AI system.

This should fix the character getting stuck bug and overall improvement on the character AI. We also improved on the AI logic to make it more intelligent.

- Small improvement on the character graphics and animation.

- Charecters acting weird and getting stuck on the big market (Supermarket)

- Restock button restocking for free got fixed.

- Few other minor bug fixes.

Please keep the bug reporting coming.

We will launch a road map on our website soon.

Enjoy ;). New build uploaded:

Version 0.13 has been uploaded.

Changes include:

- Some new options in the user settings menu

- Some small fixes and tweaks

The upcoming "sabotage" gameplay should add a new dimension to the game: sabotage competitors by placing traps and pranks in their store after hours, or defend your own store by finding and neutralizing traps set by competitors (or at least set off the traps on yourself to spare others. Someone needs to take one for the team).. Happy new year!:

Hello guys, I wanted to wish you happy new year, and say thank you for your support! I am very happy with all the progress that the game made already, and very optimistic about its future in 2019.

I have tons of plans for upcoming updates, I will take a couple or more days, to celebrate, and then return to work!

Wish you all the best in 2019!. Night of the Blood Moon Dabman: When the Haters Dab Back Support BMC Studio!:

I've been making games for the past 5 years (I know, I can't believe it either) I really want to improve the quality of my productions, but there is only so much I can do with my current budget. That's why I'm asking your help! I know it's not everyone who enjoys my games, it's not even everyone who likes me, that's totally understandable, but I'm asking for everyone who laugh at my games, who enjoys watching people play my games, imagine my games with a big production budget, the same type of humor you love (Or love to hate) but with actual special effects, higher camera quality, better editing, better props! Everything is possible.

I've dropped college to focus on BMC Studio, because I believe in me.. I believe in us.

Together we can show the world what a crazy man with a weird dream can do!

Nothing is going to stop me, us. 🐉

Hi Everyone,

Since Zoom Player version 11 was released nearly two months ago, we invested most of the time in enhancing usability, improving stability, fixing bugs and optimizing the code to squeeze out more performance.

But of course, this would not be Zoom Player if the new version did not include some cool new features!

The biggest feature in version 11.1 is the long requested support for Direct3D Pixel Shaders scripts when using MadVR as the video renderer.

Pixel Shaders are image processing scripts that are applied in real-time using GPU (display card) processing power. You can now create your own pixel shader presets and switch between presets in real time using keyboard macros or through the options dialog.

If you are using a remote control device, you can now use the Play and Stop functions within the fullscreen navigation interfaces to start playback (bypassing the mini-menu in media library thumbview mode) and close the navigation interface.

I also took the time to update the Event Ghost PC System Automation tool Zoom Player plugin to include all the new functionality introduced in recent versions of Zoom Player all the way up to version 11.1. I can personally recommend Event Ghost, I use it myself to interface a remote control with Zoom Player.
